

Role description

Senior Consultant/Engineer

Permanent Role

Background

Useful Simple Projects work with major organisations on a range of masterplanning and infrastructure developments in the UK and internationally. Our projects are often high profile, and include Rio 2016 Olympic Park, working with Grosvenor on the implementation of their Living cities programme, and Euston Station redevelopment. Our role includes setting development strategies and principles, undertaking feasibility and design studies, and project support through implementation. We are known for our high quality, innovative and engaging approach to delivering sustainable development.

We are looking for an experienced and passionate consultant to join our team. The successful candidate is likely to have an engineering or environmental science background with at least 6 years relevant experience. We are interested in hearing from people who have an area of specialist expertise (for example energy, materials, transport), a broad understanding of sustainable development and delivery experience.

Attributes

Professional qualifications and knowledge

- BEng / BSc and a Masters degree in an appropriate engineering/environmental science related discipline
- Membership of an appropriate professional body such as CIBSE, ICE, CIWM, CIWEM (or similar) and ideally be chartered.
- A wider grounding in environmental and social sustainability themes, and particular expertise in an aspect of sustainable built environment.
- Knowledge of policies and emerging solutions relating to sustainable development.
- Preferably will be BREEAM AP, and/or LEED AP.

Consultancy skills

- Excellent client management skills
- Experience in understanding organisational needs and opportunities in relation to sustainable development, defining briefs, developing strategies and carrying out feasibility studies
- Delivery of high quality technical advice, client reports, technical publications, presentations and training materials etc.
- Strong analytical and research skills
- Business development - meeting potential clients and winning / extending consultancy appointments
- Excellent project management, financial management, and organisational skills
- Ability to communicate clearly to clients, engineers and architects
- Excellent written report writing skills
- Committed and proactive approach
